Detailed Fiscal Analysis

This bill clarifies the existing jurisdiction of an environmental division of a municipal court in foreclosure actions and in proceedings of criminal actions related to the pollution of air, ground or water. In Ohio, only the Franklin County Municipal Court has an environmental division. This bill clarifies that the jurisdiction of the environment division is limited to foreclosure actions that are in aid of an execution of a judgment of that division of the municipal court. This may shift some small measure of work from the environmental division, but it would still be handled within the structure of the municipal court. The bill also clarifies that the court's concurrent jurisdiction over all criminal actions or proceedings related to the pollution of the air, ground or water within the court's territory, for which a sentence of death cannot be imposed, is with the court of common pleas. This does not expand or contract the jurisdiction of either of these courts. This bill has no direct fiscal effect on the state or on any political subdivision.
