CONTENT AND OPERATION

Background

Sub. H.B. 62 of the 121st General Assembly required the Ohio Department of Human Services to establish a two-year pilot project under which a person providing child day-care in Paulding County to one to nine children at one time may obtain certification as a type C family day-care home and be exempt from type A home licensing requirements.¹ Am. Sub. S.B. 160 of the 121st General Assembly lengthened the pilot project to three years and expanded it to six additional counties in Northwest Ohio: Defiance, Fulton, Henry, Putnam, Van Wert, and Williams.

* The Legislative Service Commission had not received formal notification of the effective date at the time this analysis was prepared.

¹ Not more than six of the children cared for in a type C family day-care home may be under age six. The remaining children must be enrolled in school and may be cared for only when school is not in session.

To obtain type C home certification, a child day-care provider must apply to a county director of human services and meet all the requirements for type B home certification, except for any requirements limiting to six the number of children who may receive child day-care at one time. Other requirements apply as well, including a prohibition against providing publicly funded child day-care.

Type C family day-care home pilot project extended for three years

The Ohio Department of Human Services was to terminate the type C family day-care home pilot project March 28, 2000, three years after its implementation. The act provides for the Department to operate the pilot an additional three years. The pilot is to terminate March 28, 2003. The act contains an emergency clause so that it will go into immediate effect.

The act does not change the conditions a child day-care provider must meet to obtain type C home certification.
