ACT SUMMARY

- Requires a public authority to ensure that bid specifications issued by the public authority for the proposed public improvement and any subsequent contract or other agreement to which the public authority and a contractor or subcontractor are direct parties do not require a contractor or subcontractor (1) to enter into agreements with labor organizations on that improvement or (2) enter into an agreement that requires the contractor or subcontractor employees to become members of or pay fees and dues to a labor organization as a condition of employment or continued employment.
- Prohibits a public authority from awarding a contract for a public improvement if the contract's bid specifications contain the prohibited elements set forth above.
- Prohibits a public authority from discriminating against any bidder, contractor, or subcontractor for refusing to become a party to any agreement with a labor organization on a public improvement currently under bid or its related projects.

* The Legislative Service Commission had not received formal notification of the effective date at the time this analysis was prepared.

- Permits an interested party to file a civil action within two years of the date on which a contract for a public improvement was signed for alleged violations of the act's provisions.
- Permits a court to award court costs, attorney's fees, and other costs to a prevailing plaintiff.

CONTENT AND OPERATION

Prohibiting the imposition of certain labor requirements in contracts for public improvements

The act requires a public authority, when it procures products or services, awards contracts, or oversees procurement or construction for public improvements, to ensure that bid specifications issued by the public authority for the proposed public improvement, and any subsequent contract or other agreement to which the public authority and a contractor or subcontractor are direct parties do not require a contractor or subcontractor to do either of the following:¹

- (1) Enter into agreements with any labor organization on the public improvement;
- (2) Enter into any agreement that requires the employees of that contractor or subcontractor to become members of or affiliated with a labor organization or pay dues or fees to a labor organization as a condition of employment or continued employment. (Sec. 4116.02.)

Prohibited actions by public authorities

The act prohibits a public authority from doing any of the following:

- (1) Awarding a contract for a public improvement if the contract and any subsequent contract or other agreement to which the public authority and a contractor or subcontractor are direct parties is required to contain any of the prohibited elements specified above;

¹ "Public authority" means the following when authorized to enter into a contract for the construction of a public improvement or to construct a public improvement by the direct employment of labor: (1) any officer, board, or commission of the state, (2) any political subdivision of the state, or (3) any institution supported in whole or in part by public funds. "Public authority" does not mean any municipal corporation that has adopted a charter under Sections 3 and 7 of Article XVIII of the Ohio Constitution, unless the specific contract for the public improvement includes state funds appropriated for the purposes of that public improvement (sec. 4116.01(A)).

(2) Discriminating against any bidder, contractor, or subcontractor for refusing to become a party to any agreement with a labor organization on a public improvement that is currently under bid or on projects related to that improvement;

(3) Violating its duty to ensure that bid specifications issued by the public authority for the proposed public improvement, and any subsequent contract or other agreement to which the public authority and a contractor or subcontractor are direct parties do not contain any of the prohibited elements specified above. (Sec. 4116.03.)

Public improvements to which the act applies

The act specifies that the term "public improvement" means (1) all buildings, roads, streets, alleys, sewers, ditches, sewage disposal plants, water works, and other structures or works constructed by a public authority or by any person pursuant to a contract with a public authority, and (2) work performed on a newly constructed structure to suit it for occupancy by a public authority when that public authority leases or rents that structure within six months after its completion. (Sec. 4116.01(C).)

"Construction" means any new construction of a public improvement that is performed by other than full-time, nonprobationary employees in the classified service, and (2) any reconstruction, enlargement, alteration, repair, remodeling, renovation, or painting of a public improvement that is performed by other than full-time, nonprobationary employees in the classified civil service. The term "construction" further includes construction on projects financed from the Department of Development Financing Advisory Council, the Minority Business Enterprise Loan Fund, industrial development bonds, the economic development program, or for an energy resource development facility, a community redevelopment corporation, or the Air Quality Development Authority. (Sec. 4116.01(B).)

Enforcement

The act permits an interested party to file a complaint against a contracting public authority alleging a violation of the act's provisions within two years after the date on which the contract was signed, in the court of common pleas of the county where the public improvement was performed.² The performance of the contract forms the basis of the allegation of a violation. The court is required to hear and decide the case, and upon a finding that a violation has occurred, void the contract and make any orders that will prevent further violations.

The rules generally applicable to civil actions in the courts of this state govern all actions under this section, and any determination of a court is subject to appellate review. The court may award reasonable attorney's fees, court costs, and any other fees incurred in the course of the civil action to the prevailing plaintiff if a violation is found. (Sec. 4116.04.)
