CONTENT AND OPERATION

International Association of Firefighters license plates

(sec. 4503.471(A) and (C))

Under the bill, any person who is a firefighter and who also is a member in good standing of the International Association of Firefighters may apply to the Registrar of Motor Vehicles for the registration of any passenger car, noncommercial motor vehicle, motor home, or other vehicle of a class approved by the Registrar and may obtain International Association of Firefighters license plates. (See COMMENT.) The bill defines "firefighter" as any person who is "actively engaged" in the profession of firefighting, although a person who is retired from the profession of firefighting and who had International Association of Firefighters license plates while actively engaged in the profession may continue to renew the registration and retain the plates.

The application for the license plates must be accompanied by written evidence, as required by the Registrar by rule, showing that the person is a firefighter who is a member in good standing of the International Association of Firefighters. The application for the license plates may be combined with a request for a special reserved license plate (also commonly known as "vanity plates") provided in current law.

Upon receipt of the completed application, payment of the applicable taxes and fees as explained below, and presentation of the evidence showing that the person is a firefighter and a member in good standing of the International Association of Firefighters, the Registrar is required to issue to the applicant the appropriate vehicle registration and a set of International Association of Firefighters license plates with a validation sticker, or a validation sticker alone once the person already has International Association of Firefighters plates.

In addition to the letters and numbers ordinarily inscribed on license plates, International Association of Firefighters license plates must be inscribed with a Maltese cross emblem designed by the International Association of Firefighters and approved by the Registrar. The license plates must bear county identification stickers that identify the county of registration by name or number.

International Association of Firefighters license plates and validation sticker are issued upon payment of the regular state and local taxes and fees prescribed in current law, a fee of $10 for the purpose of compensating the Bureau of Motor Vehicles for additional services required in the issuing of International Association of Firefighters license plates, and compliance with all other applicable laws relating to the registration of motor vehicles. If the application for International Association of Firefighters license plates is combined with a request for a vanity plate, the applicant also must pay the additional fee specified for those plates. The Registrar is required to deposit the additional $10 fee in the existing State Bureau of Motor Vehicles Fund.

Whenever a person no longer is eligible for the International Association of Firefighters license plates, the bill requires the person to surrender the plates in exchange for other license plates and authorizes a $3 fee to be charged for issuing the replacement plates. The chief of a fire department or the fire chief is required to immediately notify the Registrar whenever any person under the chief's supervision no longer is employed as a firefighter, whether or not the person had the special plates at the time of leaving the profession. However, the bill specifies that the notification does not need to be made when a person retires from the profession of firefighting.

Prohibitions

(secs. 4503.471(B) and 4503.99(A))

The bill prohibits any person who is not a firefighter and a member in good standing of the International Association of Firefighters from willfully and falsely representing that the person is a firefighter and a member in good standing of the International Association of Firefighters for the purpose of obtaining International Association of Firefighters license plates. Also, no person may own a vehicle bearing International Association of Firefighters license plates unless the person is eligible to be issued the license plates. Violation of either of these prohibitions is a minor misdemeanor.

COMMENT

Membership in the International Association of Firefighters is limited to persons employed as firefighters or who retired from such employment.
