

Sub. S.B. 184

124th General Assembly
(As Passed by the General Assembly)

Sens. Spada, Armbruster, Jacobson, Austria, Oelslager, Mead, Randy Gardner, White, Nein, Amstutz, Blessing, Brady, Carnes, Coughlin, DiDonato, Robert Gardner, Goodman, Harris, Hottinger, Jordan, Mumper, Prentiss, Wachtmann

Reps. Womer Benjamin, Seitz, Latta, Hughes, Faber, Willamowski, Sulzer, Brown, Seaver, Metzger, Roman, Aslanides, Core, Cates, Setzer, Carey, Calvert, Trakas, Niehaus, Distel, Ogg, Cirelli, Webster, Schaffer, Young, Widowfield, Schmidt, Carmichael, Olman, Wolpert, White, Hagan, Buehrer, Schneider, Clancy, Evans, Damschroder, Flowers, Peterson, Hartnett, Sferra, DeBose, Flannery, Strahorn, Allen, D. Miller, Driehaus, Latell, Patton, Fedor, Key, Hoops, Wilson, Britton, Kilbane, Jolivette, Perry, Grendell, Boccieri, Manning, Collier, DePiero, G. Smith, Reidelbach, Otterman, Barrett

Effective date: *

ACT SUMMARY

New anti-terrorism offenses

- Prohibits a person from raising, soliciting, collecting, donating, or providing any material support or resources, with purpose that the material support or resources will be used in whole or in part to plan, prepare, carry out, or aid in either an "act of terrorism" (defined in the act) or the concealment of, or an escape from, an act of terrorism (offense of "soliciting or providing support for an act of terrorism").
- Prohibits a person from threatening to commit or causing to be committed a "specified offense" (defined in the act) when: (1) the person makes the threat with purpose to intimidate or coerce a civilian population, influence the policy of any government by intimidation or coercion, or affect the conduct of any government by the threat or by specified offense, and (2) as a result of the threat, the person causes a reasonable expectation or fear of the imminent commission of the specified offense (offense of "making a terroristic threat").

* The Legislative Service Commission had not received formal notification of the effective date at the time this analysis was prepared. Additionally, the analysis may not reflect action taken by the Governor.

- Prohibits a person from committing a "specified offense" (defined in the act) with purpose to intimidate or coerce a civilian population, influence the policy of any government by intimidation or coercion, or affect conduct of any government by the specified offense (offense of "terrorism").

Obstructing justice

- Expands the offense of "obstructing justice" to also prohibit a person, with purpose to hinder the discovery, apprehension, prosecution, conviction, or punishment of another for crime, etc., from preventing or obstructing any person, by means of force, intimidation, or deception, from performing any act to aid in the discovery, apprehension, or prosecution of the other person or child, increases the penalty for the offense when the crime committed by the person aided or the act committed by the child aided is an act of terrorism, and specifies that apprehension, prosecution, or conviction of the person aided is not a prerequisite to a prosecution or conviction for obstructing justice.

Payment of costs related to terroristic conduct

- Permits a court sentencing an offender or imposing a disposition upon a delinquent child to: (1) order the offender or child to pay to the state or local law enforcement agencies that handled the investigation and prosecution all costs they reasonably incurred in the investigation and prosecution of the violation, if the offense or delinquent act is the new offense of "soliciting or providing support for an act of terrorism," "making a terroristic threat," or "terrorism" that the act enacts, or is "obstructing justice" when the offense or act committed by the person aided or to be aided is an act of terrorism, or (2) order the offender or child to reimburse the involved political subdivision for any emergency response costs it incurred as a result of, or in making any response to, the threatened or actual specified offense in question, if the offense or act is "making a terroristic threat" or "terrorism" that the act enacts.

Contamination offenses

- Expands the offense of "contaminating a substance for human consumption or use" and the offense of "spreading a false report of contamination" to also prohibit certain conduct that relates to contamination or false reports of contamination with "hazardous chemical, biological, or radioactive substances" (defined in the act), modifies the penalties for the first cited offense to reflect that expansion, and changes the name of the first cited offense to "contaminating a substance for human consumption or use or contamination with a hazardous chemical, biological, or radioactive substance."

Offense of violence

- Includes as an "offense of violence" as that term applies throughout the Revised Code the new offense of "terrorism" that the act enacts, a violation of an existing or former substantially equivalent municipal, state, or federal law or ordinance, and any conspiracy, attempt to commit, or complicity in committing that offense.

Aggravated murder and capital sentencing

- Expands the offense of "aggravated murder" to also prohibit a person from purposely causing the death of another or the unlawful termination of another's pregnancy while committing or attempting to commit, or while fleeing immediately after committing or attempting to commit, the new offense of "terrorism" that the act enacts.
- Includes as an aggravating circumstance that is used for determining whether a person convicted of aggravated murder might face a sentence of death the fact that the offense was committed while the offender was committing, attempting to commit, or fleeing immediately after committing or attempting to commit the new offense of "terrorism" that the act enacts.

Communications Interception Law

- Expands the list of offenses that are "designated offenses" under the Communications Interception Law to also include the new offenses of "soliciting or providing support for an act of terrorism," "making a terroristic threat," and "terrorism" that the act enacts, complicity in the commission of any of those offenses, and an attempt to commit or conspiracy in the commission of a violation of any of those offenses that is punishable by a term of imprisonment of more than one year.

Corrupt Activity Law

- Expands the list of offenses that are within the definition of "corrupt activity" under the Corrupt Activity Law to also include the new offenses of "soliciting or providing support for an act of terrorism," "making a terroristic threat," and "terrorism" that the act enacts.

Open Meetings Law

- Modifies the security related matters relative to which the Open Meetings Law permits members of a public body to hold an executive session to permit an executive session for the purpose of the consideration of details relative to the security arrangements and emergency response protocols for a public body or public office, if disclosure of the matters discussed could reasonably be expected to jeopardize the security of the public body or public office.

Public Records Law

- Provides that a record kept by a public office that is a "security record" or "infrastructure record" (defined in the act) is not a public record under the Public Records Law and is not subject to mandatory release or disclosure under that Law.

Comprehensive school safety plan

- Requires the board of education of each city, exempted village, and local school district to file a copy of the comprehensive school safety plan that continuing law requires the board to adopt with each law enforcement agency that has jurisdiction over the school building the plan covers.

Nonrenewable driver's licenses

- Revises the methods by which a nonrenewable driver's license (driver's licenses issued to temporary residents are nonrenewable) may be replaced, specifies the date of expiration for nonrenewable licenses, states that a nonrenewable license is not transferable and that the applicant may not rely on it to obtain a driver's license in another state, and requires the Registrar of Motor Vehicles to adopt rules governing nonrenewable licenses for temporary residents.

Emergency Management Law

- Revises programs for emergency management of countywide emergency management agencies, regional authorities for emergency management, and political subdivisions to: (1) additionally require the program to be in accordance with local ordinances pertaining to emergency management, (2) replace the federal law and regulations with which the program must comply with a requirement that the program comply with a different federal law and rules and regulations adopted under that law, (3) expand the emergency operations plan that must be developed to be an "all-hazards" emergency operations plan that has been coordinated with all agencies, boards, and divisions having emergency management functions within the county, and (4) require the program to include the preparation and conduct of an annual exercise of the county's all-hazards emergency operations plan.
- Requires all agencies, boards, and divisions having emergency management functions within each political subdivision within the county to cooperate in the development of the all-hazards emergency operations plan and to cooperate in the preparation and conduct of the annual exercise.
- Specifies that a countywide emergency management agency is a county board and is to receive services of specified county officials.

Contraband

- Expands the definition of "contraband" that applies throughout the Revised Code to also include any property that is "material support or resources" (defined in the act), and that has been, is being, or is intended to be used in an attempt or conspiracy to commit, or in the commission of, the new offenses of "soliciting or providing support for an act of terrorism" that the act enacts, "making a terroristic threat," or "terrorism," or the amended offense of "obstructing justice" when the offense or act committed by the person aided or to be aided as described in that offense is an "act of terrorism" (defined in the act).

Emergency

- Declares an emergency.

TABLE OF CONTENTS

New anti-terrorism offenses..... 7
 Offense of "soliciting or providing support for an act of terrorism" 7
 Offense of "making a terroristic threat" 8
 Offense of "terrorism" 8
Obstructing justice..... 9
 Continuing law..... 9
 Operation of the act..... 10
Payment of investigation, prosecution, and governmental response costs related to terroristic conduct..... 10
 Payment of investigation and prosecution costs..... 10
 Reimbursement of governmental response costs 11
Definitions for new anti-terrorism offenses 11
Contamination offenses 12
 Continuing law..... 12
 Operation of the act..... 13
Offense of violence 16
 Continuing law..... 16
 Operation of the act..... 17
Aggravated murder and capital sentencing 17
 Aggravated murder..... 17
Capital Sentencing Law 18
 Generally 18
 Aggravating circumstances 18
Communications Interception Law 20
 In general 20
 Designated offenses 21
Corrupt Activity Law 22
 In general 22
 Pattern of corrupt activity, and corrupt activity..... 23
Open Meetings Law 26
 In general 26
 Executive sessions..... 27
Public Records Law 27
 Continuing law..... 27
 Operation of the act..... 29
Comprehensive school safety plans 30
 Continuing law..... 30

Operation of the act.....	30
Nonrenewable driver's licenses.....	30
Continuing and prior law.....	30
Operation of the act.....	31
Emergency Management Law	31
Continuing and prior law.....	31
Operation of the act.....	32
Definition of contraband	33
Continuing law.....	33
Operation of the act.....	34
Use in Revised Code	34

CONTENT AND OPERATION

New anti-terrorism offenses

The act enacts a series of new offenses that prohibit specified conduct related to terrorist activities.

Offense of "soliciting or providing support for an act of terrorism"

The act prohibits a person from raising, soliciting, collecting, donating, or providing any "material support or resources" (see "Definitions for new anti-terrorism offenses," below), with purpose that the material support or resources will be used in whole or in part to plan, prepare, carry out, or aid in either an "act of terrorism" (see "Definitions for new anti-terrorism offenses," below) or the concealment of, or an escape from, an act of terrorism. A violation of this prohibition is the offense of "soliciting or providing support for an act of terrorism," a felony of the third degree. The act's provisions regarding an offender's payment of the costs of investigation and prosecution and reimbursement for governmental response costs, as described below in "Payment of investigation, prosecution, and governmental response costs related to terrorist conduct," apply to an offender who is convicted of or pleads guilty to this offense.

The act states that a prosecution for this offense does not preclude a prosecution for a violation of any other Revised Code section. One or more acts, a series of acts, or a course of behavior that can be prosecuted as this offense or as a violation of any other section of the Revised Code may be prosecuted as this offense, a violation of the other section, or both. (R.C. 2909.22.)

Offense of "making a terroristic threat"

The act prohibits a person from threatening to commit or causing to be committed a "specified offense" (see "Definitions for new anti-terrorism offenses," below) when both of the following apply: (1) the person makes the threat with purpose to intimidate or coerce a civilian population, influence the policy of any government by intimidation or coercion, or affect the conduct of any government by the threat or by the specified offense, and (2) as a result of the threat, the person causes a reasonable expectation or fear of the imminent commission of the specified offense. A violation of this prohibition is the offense of "making a terroristic threat," a felony of the third degree. The act's provisions regarding an offender's payment of the costs of investigation and prosecution and reimbursement for governmental response costs, as described below in "Payment of investigation, prosecution, and governmental response costs related to terroristic conduct," apply to an offender who is convicted of or pleads guilty to this offense.

The act states that it is not a defense to a charge of a violation of the prohibition described in the preceding paragraph that the defendant did not have the intent or capability to commit the threatened specified offense or that the threat was not made to a person who was a subject of the threatened specified offense. (R.C. 2909.23.)

Offense of "terrorism"

The act prohibits a person from committing a "specified offense" (see "Definitions for new anti-terrorism offenses," below) with purpose to do any of the following: (1) intimidate or coerce a civilian population, (2) influence the policy of any government by intimidation or coercion, or (3) affect the conduct of any government by the specified offense.

A violation of this prohibition is the offense of "terrorism." The penalty for the offense is determined as follows: (1) except as otherwise provided in (2) and (3), terrorism is an offense one degree higher than the most serious underlying specified offense the defendant committed, (2) if the most serious of those underlying specified offenses is a felony of the first degree or murder, the offender must be sentenced to life imprisonment without parole, and (3) if the most serious of those underlying specified offenses is aggravated murder, the offender must be sentenced to life imprisonment without parole or death pursuant to the Capital Sentencing Law (see "Capital Sentencing Law," below). The act's provisions regarding an offender's payment of the costs of investigation and prosecution and reimbursement for governmental response costs, as described below in "Payment of investigation, prosecution, and governmental response costs related to terroristic conduct," apply to an offender convicted of this offense. (R.C. 2909.24.)

Obstructing justice

Continuing law

Continuing law prohibits a person, with purpose to hinder the discovery, apprehension, prosecution, conviction, or punishment of another for crime or to assist another to benefit from the commission of a crime, or with purpose to hinder the discovery, apprehension, prosecution, adjudication as a delinquent child, or disposition of a child for an act that if committed by an adult would be a crime or to assist a child to benefit from the commission of an act that if committed by an adult would be a crime, from doing any of the following: (1) harboring or concealing the other person or child, (2) providing the other person or child with money, transportation, a weapon, a disguise, or other means of avoiding discovery or apprehension, (3) warning the other person or child of impending discovery or apprehension, (4) destroying or concealing physical evidence of the crime or act, or inducing any person to withhold testimony or information or to elude legal process summoning the person to testify or supply evidence, or (5) communicating false information to any person (R.C. 2921.32(A)).

A violation of this prohibition is the offense of "obstructing justice." The penalty for obstructing justice is determined as follows (R.C. 2921.32(B)):

(1) If the crime committed by the person aided is a misdemeanor or the act committed by the child aided would be a misdemeanor if committed by an adult, obstructing justice is a misdemeanor of the same degree as the crime committed by the person aided or of the same degree that the act committed by the child aided would be if committed by an adult.

(2) Except as described below in (3), if the crime committed by the person aided is a felony or the act committed by the child aided would be a felony if committed by an adult, obstructing justice is a felony of the fifth degree.

(3) If the crime committed by the person aided is aggravated murder, murder, or a felony of the first or second degree or the act committed by the child aided would be one of those offenses if committed by an adult and if the offender knows or has reason to believe that the crime committed by the person aided is one of those offenses or that the act committed by the child aided would be one of those offenses if committed by an adult, obstructing justice is a felony of the third degree.

Operation of the act

The act modifies the offense of obstructing justice in three ways:

(1) It expands the types of conduct that are prohibited under the offense to also prohibit a person, with any of the currently specified purposes (e.g., purpose to hinder the discovery, apprehension, prosecution, conviction, or punishment of another for crime, etc.), from preventing or obstructing any person, by means of force, intimidation, or deception, from performing any act to aid in the discovery, apprehension, or prosecution of the other person or child (R.C. 2921.32(A)(6)).

(2) It adds a new tier to the penalty structure currently provided for the offense that applies when the crime or act committed by the person or child aided is an "act of terrorism" (see "Definitions for new anti-terrorism offenses," below). Under the act, in such a case, obstructing justice is a felony of the second degree or, if the act of terrorism resulted in the death of a person who was not a participant in the act of terrorism, a felony of the first degree. (R.C. 2921.32(C)(5) and (D)(3).)

(3) It specifies that a person may be prosecuted for, and may be convicted of or adjudicated a delinquent child for committing, a violation of the prohibition that constitutes the offense as expanded by the act (i.e., the portions of the prohibition in continuing law or the portions added by the act) regardless of whether the person or child aided ultimately is apprehended for, is charged with, is convicted of, pleads guilty to, or is adjudicated a delinquent child for committing the crime or act the person or child aided committed. The crime or act the person or child aided committed is to be used in determining the penalty for the violation of the prohibition, as specified in the offense's penalty provisions, regardless of whether the person or child aided ultimately is apprehended for, is charged with, is convicted of, pleads guilty to, or is adjudicated a delinquent child for committing the crime or act the person or child aided committed. (R.C. 2921.32(B).)

Payment of investigation, prosecution, and governmental response costs related to terroristic conduct

Payment of investigation and prosecution costs

The act provides that the court imposing sentence upon an offender who is convicted of committing the offense of soliciting or providing support for an act of terrorism, making a terroristic threat, or terrorism, or the offense of obstructing justice when the offense or act committed by the person aided or to be aided as described in that offense is an act of terrorism, or the juvenile court that is making disposition of a child adjudicated a delinquent child for committing an act that would be any of those offenses if committed by an adult, may order the offender or child to pay to the state, municipal, or county law enforcement agencies that handled the investigation and prosecution all of the costs that the state, municipal corporation, or county reasonably incurred in the investigation and prosecution of the violation. The act specifies that the order is authorized in addition to the financial sanctions authorized under the Felony Sentencing Law (in R.C. 2929.18--not in the act) or the other delinquent child dispositions authorized or required under the Juvenile Delinquency Law (R.C. Chapter 2152.--the provisions containing these other dispositions are not in the act). The court must hold a hearing to determine the amount of costs to be imposed under this provision; the court may hold it as part of the sentencing hearing for the offender or the dispositional hearing for the child. (R.C. 2152.201(A) and (C) and 2909.25(A).)

Reimbursement of governmental response costs

The act also provides that, if a person is convicted of committing the offense of making a terroristic threat or terrorism or a child is adjudicated a delinquent child for committing an act that would be either of those offenses if committed by an adult and if any political subdivision incurred any "response costs" (see "Definitions for new anti-terrorism offenses," below) as a result of, or in making any response to, the threat of the specified offense involved in the offense of making a terroristic threat or the actual specified offense involved in the offense of terrorism, the court imposing sentence upon the offender for the offense or the juvenile court making disposition of the delinquent child may order the offender or child to reimburse the involved political subdivision for the response costs it so incurred. The act specifies that the order is authorized in addition to the financial sanctions authorized under the Felony Sentencing Law or the other delinquent child dispositions authorized or required under the Juvenile Delinquency Law. (R.C. 2152.201(B) and (C) and 2909.25(B).)

Definitions for new anti-terrorism offenses

The act enacts the following definitions that are used in its provisions described above (R.C. 2909.21):

(1) "Act of terrorism" means an act that is committed within or outside the territorial jurisdiction of Ohio or the United States, that constitutes a "specified offense" (see (5), below) if committed in Ohio or constitutes an offense in any jurisdiction within or outside the territorial jurisdiction of the United States containing all of the essential elements of a specified offense, and that is intended to do one or more of the following: (a) intimidate or coerce a civilian population, (b) influence the policy of any government by intimidation or coercion, or (c) affect the conduct of any government by the act that constitutes the offense.

(2) "Material support or resources" means currency, "payment instruments" (see (3), below), other financial securities, financial services, lodging, training, safehouses, false documentation or identification, communications equipment, facilities, weapons, lethal substances, explosives, personnel, transportation, and other physical assets, except medicine or religious materials.

(3) "Payment instrument" means a check, draft, money order, traveler's check, cashier's check, teller's check, or other instrument or order for the transmission or payment of money, regardless of whether the item in question is negotiable.

(4) "Response costs" means all costs a political subdivision incurs as a result of, or in making any response to, a threat of a specified offense made as described in the offense of making a terroristic threat or a specified offense committed as described in the offense of terrorism, including, but not limited to, all costs so incurred by any law enforcement officers, firefighters, rescue personnel, or emergency medical services personnel of the political subdivision and all costs so incurred by the political subdivision that relate to laboratory testing or hazardous material cleanup.

(5) "Specified offense" means any of the following: (a) a felony "offense of violence" (see "Offense of violence," below), the offense of "disrupting public services," the offenses of "contaminating a substance for human consumption or use or contamination with a hazardous chemical, biological, or radioactive substance" or "spreading a false report of contamination" (both as amended by the act--see "Contamination offenses," below), or a felony of the first degree that is not a violation of the Drug Laws or Controlled Substances Laws, or (b) an attempt to commit, complicity in committing, or a conspiracy to commit an offense listed in clause (a) of this paragraph.

Contamination offenses

Continuing law

Contaminating a substance for human consumption or use. Continuing law prohibits a person from knowingly mingling a "poison" or other harmful substance with a food, drink, nonprescription drug, prescription drug, or pharmaceutical product, or knowingly placing a poison or other harmful substance in a spring, well, reservoir, or public water supply, if the person knows or has reason to know that the food, drink, nonprescription drug, prescription drug, pharmaceutical product, or water may be ingested or used by another person. However, the prohibition is subject to the provisions described below in "Expressly permitted conduct; exemption." For purposes of the prohibition, a person does not know or have reason to know that water may be ingested or used by another person if it is disposed of as waste into a household drain including the drain of a toilet, sink, tub, or floor.

A violation of this prohibition is the offense of "contaminating a substance for human consumption or use." Contaminating a substance for human consumption or use generally is a felony of the first degree, but if the offense involved an amount of poison or other harmful substance sufficient to cause death if ingested or used by a person or if the offense resulted in serious physical harm to another person, the penalty for contaminating a substance for human consumption or use is life imprisonment with parole eligibility after serving 15 years of imprisonment. (R.C. 2927.24(B) and (E)(1).)

Spreading a false report of contamination. Continuing law also prohibits a person from informing another that a poison or other harmful substance has been or will be placed in a food, drink, nonprescription drug, prescription drug, or other pharmaceutical product, spring, well, reservoir, or public water supply, if the placement of the poison or other harmful substance would be contaminating a substance for human consumption or use, and the person knows both that the information is false and that the information likely will be disseminated to the public. A violation of this prohibition is the offense of "spreading a false report of contamination," a felony of the fourth degree. (R.C. 2927.24(C) and (E)(2).)

Expressly permitted conduct; exemption. Continuing law expressly permits a person to: (1) mingle a drug with a food or drink for the purpose of causing the drug to be ingested or used in the quantity described by its labeling or prescription, or (2) place a poison or other harmful substance in a spring, well, reservoir, or public water supply in such quantity as is necessary to treat the spring, well, reservoir, or water supply to make it safe for human consumption and use. Prior law also specified that the "provisions of division (A) of this section" could not be applied in a manner that conflicted with any other state or federal law or rule relating to substances permitted to be applied to or present in any food, raw or processed, any milk or milk product, any meat or meat product, any type of crop, water, or alcoholic or nonalcoholic beverage (note that the reference to division (A) appears to be in error, as division (A) of the section contains definitions but no substantive provision--the act changes the reference so that it is to division (B) of the section, which contains the prohibition described above in "Contaminating a substance, etc."). (R.C. 2927.24(D).)

Operation of the act

The act expands the prohibitions that constitute the offense of contaminating a substance for human consumption or use and the offense of spreading a false report of contamination to also prohibit certain conduct that relates to "hazardous chemical, biological, or radioactive substances," as defined in the act (see Definition of "hazardous chemical, biological, or radioactive substance", below). It also changes the name of, and modifies the penalties for, the offense of contaminating a substance for human consumption or use to reflect that expansion.

Contaminating a substance, etc. Under the act, in addition to the prohibited conduct under continuing law, the offense prohibiting a person from contaminating a substance for human consumption or use is expanded to also prohibit a person from knowingly doing any of the following: (1) mingling a hazardous chemical, biological, or radioactive substance with a food, drink, nonprescription drug, prescription drug, or pharmaceutical product, or placing a hazardous chemical, biological, or radioactive substance in a spring, well, reservoir, or public water supply, if the person knows or has reason to know that the food, drink, nonprescription drug, prescription drug, pharmaceutical product, or water may be ingested or used by another person (the provision described above in Expressly permitted conduct; exemption and the provision regarding the disposal of waste water into a household drain, which are not changed by the act, apply to this portion of the expanded prohibition), or (2) releasing into the air, leaving in any public place, or exposing one or more persons to any hazardous chemical, biological, or radioactive substance, with the intent to cause, or create a risk of, death or serious physical harm to any person.

The act changes the name of the offense to reflect the expansion of the prohibition as described in the preceding paragraph. Under the act, a violation of the expanded prohibition is the offense of "contaminating a substance for human consumption or use or contamination with a hazardous chemical, biological, or radioactive substance." The act retains the preexisting penalty structure for the offense, but modifies the life imprisonment portion of the penalty structure to reflect the expansion of the prohibition as described in the preceding paragraph. Under the act, the offense remains, in general, a felony of the first degree. But if the offense involved an amount of poison, the hazardous chemical, biological, or radioactive substance, or the other harmful substance sufficient to cause death if ingested or used by a person or (regarding a violation of the provision described in clause (2) of the preceding paragraph) sufficient to cause death to persons who are exposed to it or if the offense resulted in serious physical harm to another person, the penalty for contaminating a substance for human consumption or use or contamination with a hazardous chemical, biological, or radioactive substance is life imprisonment with parole eligibility after serving 15 years of imprisonment. (R.C. 2927.24(B) and (E)(1).)

Spreading a false report of contamination. Under the act, in addition to the currently prohibited conduct, the offense named spreading a false report of contamination is expanded to also prohibit a person from doing any of the following: (1) informing another that a hazardous chemical, biological, or radioactive substance has been or will be placed in a food, drink, nonprescription drug, prescription drug, or other pharmaceutical product, spring, well, reservoir, or public water supply, if the placement of the substance would be a violation of the prohibition described in clause (1) of the second preceding paragraph, and the person knows both that the information is false and that the information likely will be disseminated to the public, or (2) informing another that a hazardous chemical, biological, or radioactive substance has been or will be released into the air or left in a public place, or that one or more persons has been or will be exposed to a hazardous chemical, biological, or radioactive substance, if the release, leaving, or exposure of the hazardous chemical, biological, or radioactive substance would be a violation of the provision described in clause (2) of the second preceding paragraph, and the person knows both that the information is false and that the information likely will be disseminated to the general public. Under the act, as under continuing law, a violation of this prohibition is the offense of "spreading a false report of contamination," a felony of the fourth degree.

The act specifies that the provisions that constitute the offense of spreading a false report of contamination, as expanded by the act (i.e., the portions of the offense in continuing law and the portions added by the act), do not limit or affect the application of the offense of inducing panic or making false alarms. Any act that is a violation of both the prohibitions that constitute the offense of spreading a false report of contamination, as expanded by the act, and of inducing panic or making false alarms may be prosecuted under the offense of spreading a false report of contamination, under inducing panic or making false alarms, or under both the offense of spreading a false report of contamination and inducing panic or making false alarms. (R.C. 2927.24(C), (E)(2), and (F).)

Definition of "hazardous chemical, biological, or radioactive substance".

The act defines the following new terms that are used in its provisions relating to contaminating a substance, etc., and spreading a false report of contamination (R.C. 2927.24(A)(3) to (5)):

(1) "Hazardous chemical, biological, or radioactive substance" means: (a) any toxic or poisonous chemical, the precursor of any toxic or poisonous chemical, or any "toxin" (see (3), below), (b) any disease organism or "biological agent" (see (2), below), or (c) any substance or item that releases or is designed to release radiation or radioactivity at a level dangerous to human life.

(2) "Biological agent" means any microorganism, virus, infectious substance, or biological product that may be engineered through biotechnology, or any naturally occurring or bioengineered component of any microorganism, virus, infectious substance, or biological product that may be engineered through biotechnology, capable of causing death, disease, or other biological malfunction in a human, an animal, a plant, or another living organism, deterioration of food, water, equipment, supplies, or material of any kind, or deleterious alteration of the environment.

(3) "Toxin" means the toxic material of plants, animals, microorganisms, viruses, fungi, or infectious substances, or a recombinant molecule, whatever its origin or method of reproduction, including, but not limited to, any poisonous substance or biological product that may be engineered through biotechnology or produced by a living organism and any poisonous isomer or biological product, homolog, or derivative of any substance or product of that nature.

Offense of violence

Continuing law

Continuing law defines "offense of violence," as used throughout the Revised Code, as any of the following (R.C. 2901.01(A)(9)):

(1) Aggravated murder, murder, voluntary manslaughter, involuntary manslaughter, felonious assault, aggravated assault, assault, permitting child abuse, aggravated menacing, menacing by stalking, menacing, kidnapping, abduction, extortion, rape, sexual battery, gross sexual imposition, aggravated arson, arson, aggravated robbery, robbery, aggravated burglary, inciting to violence, aggravated riot, riot, inducing panic, domestic violence, endangering children in certain circumstances, intimidation, intimidation of an attorney, victim, or witness in a criminal case, escape, improperly discharging a firearm at or into a habitation or in a school safety zone, burglary in certain instances, or the former offense of felonious sexual penetration;

(2) A violation of an existing or former municipal, state, or federal ordinance or law, substantially equivalent to any offense listed in (1), above;

(3) An offense, other than a traffic offense, under an existing or former municipal, state, or federal ordinance or law, committed purposely or knowingly, and involving physical harm to persons or a risk of serious physical harm to persons;

(4) A conspiracy to commit, attempt to commit, or complicity in committing any offense under (1), (2), or (3), above.

A number of existing Revised Code sections use the term "offense of violence" in a variety of ways. Among the uses are uses pertaining to the criminalization of certain conduct involving threats to commit, or the commission of, an offense of violence (e.g., R.C. 2917.01, 2917.02, and 2917.31), the confinement of persons convicted of an offense of violence (e.g., R.C. 2929.221), the provision of notifications to specified persons regarding the escape of persons convicted of offenses of violence (e.g., R.C. 309.18), special evidentiary rules regarding persons accused of committing an offense of violence against a child (e.g., R.C. 2151.3511, 2937.11, 2945.481, and 2945.49), and employment and other restrictions imposed upon persons convicted of an offense of violence (e.g., R.C. 2923.13, 3319.31, and 3345.23).

Operation of the act

The act expands the definition of "offense of violence" to include the offense of "terrorism" that the act enacts, a violation of an existing or former municipal, state, or federal ordinance or law that is substantially equivalent to "terrorism," and any conspiracy to commit, attempt to commit, or complicity in committing "terrorism" (R.C. 2901.01(A)(9)(a), (b), and (d)).

Aggravated murder and capital sentencing

Aggravated murder

Continuing law. Continuing law sets forth the offense of "aggravated murder." The offense prohibits a person from doing any of the following: (1) purposely, and with prior calculation and design, causing the death of another or the unlawful termination of another's pregnancy, (2) purposely causing the death of another or the unlawful termination of another's pregnancy while committing or attempting to commit, kidnapping, rape, aggravated arson, arson, aggravated robbery, robbery, aggravated burglary, burglary, or escape (this provision often is referred to as "felony-murder aggravated murder"), (3) purposely causing the death of another who is under 13 years of age at the time of the commission of the offense, (4) if the person is under detention as a result of having been found guilty of or having pleaded guilty to a felony or the person breaks that detention, purposely causing the death of another, or (5) purposely causing the death of a law enforcement officer whom the offender knows or has reasonable cause to know is a law enforcement officer when either the victim, at the time of the commission of the offense, is engaged in the victim's duties, or it is the offender's specific purpose to kill a law enforcement officer.

A violation of this prohibition is the offense of aggravated murder, and depending upon the facts and circumstances present, a person convicted of the offense is sentenced to death or to life imprisonment. The sentence is determined under special sentencing provisions, described below in "Capital Sentencing Law." (R.C. 2903.01, and R.C. 2929.02--not in the act.)

Operation of the act. The act expands the continuing provision that sets forth "felony-murder aggravated murder" to include a reference to the offense of "terrorism" that the act enacts. Under the act, that provision also prohibits a person from purposely causing the death of another or the unlawful termination of another's pregnancy while committing or attempting to commit, or while fleeing immediately after committing or attempting to commit, terrorism. A violation of this expanded prohibition is the offense of aggravated murder and the offender must be sentenced to death or to life imprisonment as determined under the provisions described below in "Capital Sentencing Law." (R.C. 2903.01(B).)

Capital Sentencing Law

Generally

Under continuing law, the only situation in which a person potentially might face a sentence of death is when the person is convicted of the offense of "aggravated murder" (see above) and of a specification of an "aggravating circumstance" (see "Aggravating circumstances," below). If a person is convicted of the offense but no such specification, the court must sentence the person to life imprisonment with parole eligibility after serving 20 years of imprisonment. If a person is convicted of both the offense and one or more such specification, the trial jury and trial judge or, if the person was not tried by a jury, the three-judge panel that tried the case conducts a sentencing hearing to determine the sentence to impose on the person. The person may be sentenced to death only if the trial jury and trial judge, or the three-judge panel, determines at the hearing in accordance with specified procedures that the aggravating circumstances the person was convicted of committing outweigh all mitigating factors in the case. If the trial jury and trial judge, or the three-judge panel, does not sentence the person to death, it must sentence the person to life imprisonment without parole, life imprisonment with parole eligibility after serving 30 full years of imprisonment, life imprisonment with parole eligibility after serving 25 full years of imprisonment, or a special type of sentence of life imprisonment under the Sexually Violent Predator Law. (R.C. 2929.02 to 2929.06, not in the act, except for R.C. 2929.04.)

Aggravating circumstances

Continuing law. Continuing law, expanded by the act as described below, specifies that imposition of the death penalty for aggravated murder is precluded unless one or more of the following "aggravating circumstances" is specified in the indictment or count in the indictment and proved beyond a reasonable doubt (R.C. 2929.04(A)):

(1) The offense was the assassination of the President of the United States or a person in line of succession to the Presidency, the Ohio Governor or Lieutenant Governor, the President-elect or Vice President-elect of the United States, the Ohio Governor-elect or Lieutenant Governor-elect, or a candidate for any of those offices.

(2) The offense was committed for hire.

(3) The offense was committed for the purpose of escaping detection, apprehension, trial, or punishment for another offense committed by the offender.

(4) The offense was committed while the offender was under detention or while the offender was at large after having broken detention.

(5) Prior to the offense at bar, the offender was convicted of an offense an essential element of which was the purposeful killing of or attempt to kill another, or the offense at bar was part of a course of conduct involving the purposeful killing of or attempt to kill two or more persons by the offender.

(6) The victim of the offense was a law enforcement officer whom the offender had reasonable cause to know or knew to be a law enforcement officer, and either the victim, at the time of the commission of the offense, was engaged in the victim's duties, or it was the offender's specific purpose to kill a law enforcement officer.

(7) The offense was committed while the offender was committing, attempting to commit, or fleeing immediately after committing or attempting to commit kidnapping, rape, aggravated arson, aggravated robbery, or aggravated burglary, and either the offender was the principal offender in the commission of the aggravated murder or, if not the principal offender, committed the aggravated murder with prior calculation and design.

(8) The victim of the aggravated murder was a witness to an offense who was purposely killed to prevent the victim's testimony in any criminal proceeding and the aggravated murder was not committed during the commission, attempted commission, or flight immediately after the commission or attempted commission of the offense to which the victim was a witness, or the victim of the aggravated murder was a witness to an offense and was purposely killed in retaliation for the victim's testimony in any criminal proceeding.

(9) The offender, in the commission of the offense, purposefully caused the death of another who was under 13 years of age at the time of the commission of the offense, and either the offender was the principal offender in the commission of the offense or, if not the principal offender, committed the offense with prior calculation and design.

Operation of the act. The act expands the list of aggravating circumstances for determining whether a person convicted of aggravated murder might face a sentence of death. Under the act, in addition to the aggravating circumstances under continuing law listed above, it also is an aggravating circumstance if the offense was committed while the offender was committing, attempting to commit, or fleeing immediately after committing or attempting to commit the offense of "terrorism" that the act enacts (R.C. 2929.04(A)(10) and 2941.14).

Communications Interception Law

In general

The Communications Interception Law, continued by the act except as described below in "Designated offenses" (R.C. 2933.51 to 2933.66, not in the act except for R.C. 2933.51), regulates the interception by any person of any wire, oral, or electronic communication. The Law generally prohibits the interception of any such communication and certain conduct related to the interception of any such communication and provides exceptions to the general prohibition. One of the exceptions is for an interception that was made pursuant to an "interception warrant" obtained by a specified law enforcement official under that Law and for conduct related to such an interception. The Law provides a mechanism for obtaining an interception warrant, pursuant to an application made to a judge of a court of common pleas.

If a specified law enforcement official applies for an interception warrant under that mechanism, the judge may issue the warrant if the judge determines that all of the following exist: (1) the application and affidavits submitted comply with the law, (2) there is probable cause to believe that a particular person is committing, has committed, or is about to commit a "designated offense" (see below), (3) there is probable cause to believe that particular communications concerning the designated offense will be obtained through the interception of wire, oral, or electronic communications, (4) normal investigative procedures with respect to the designated offense either have been tried and failed, or reasonably appear to be unlikely to succeed if tried or to be too dangerous to employ in order to obtain evidence, (5) subject to a specified exception, there is probable cause to believe that the communication facilities from which the communications are to be intercepted, or the place at which oral communications are to be intercepted, are being used or are about to be used in connection with the commission of the designated offense or are leased to, listed in the name of, or commonly used by a person who is the subject of the interception warrant, and (6) the investigative officer has received training that satisfies the minimum standards established by the Attorney General and the Ohio Peace Officer Training Commission and is able to execute the interception sought (R.C. 2933.54(A)--not in the act).

An interception warrant terminates on the earlier of when the objective of the warrant has been achieved or upon the expiration of 30 days after the date of commencement of the warrant unless an extension is granted. The date of commencement of an interception warrant is the earlier of the day on which an officer first begins to conduct an interception under the warrant or the day that is ten days after the warrant is issued. If a judge issues an interception warrant, the judge must make a finding as to the objective of the warrant, and the warrant must contain specified information. (R.C. 2933.54(E) and (F) and 2933.56--not in the act.)

The Law contains special provisions that permit a judge of a court of common pleas to grant an oral order for an interception of a wire, oral, or electronic communication without a warrant. The judge must condition the order upon the filing with the judge, within 48 hours, of a regular, written application for an interception warrant. The judge must determine that there appear to be grounds upon which an interception warrant could be issued, that there is probable cause to believe that an emergency situation exists with respect to the investigation of a designated offense, and that the emergency situation involves an immediate danger of death or serious physical harm that justifies the authorization for immediate interception of a private wire, oral, or electronic communication before an application for an interception warrant could, with due diligence, be submitted to the judge and acted upon. Special provisions apply regarding oral orders for interception that are issued. (R.C. 2933.57--not in the act.)

The Law contains a series of provisions that govern the execution of interception warrants and oral orders for interception, the filing of reports regarding the warrants and orders issued and the content of communications intercepted, the possible suppression of information obtained pursuant to an interception, and the use of information obtained pursuant to an interception (R.C. 2933.58 to 2933.66--not in the act).

Designated offenses

Continuing law. Under the continuing Communications Interception Law, expanded by the act as described below, "designated offense" means any of the following (R.C. 2933.51(I)):

(1) A felony violation of certain offenses regarding money transmitters, aggravated murder, murder, felonious assault, kidnapping, abduction, extortion, extortionate extension of credit, criminal usury, rape, compelling prostitution, promoting prostitution, aggravated arson, arson, disrupting public services, aggravated robbery, robbery, aggravated burglary, burglary, theft, unauthorized use of property, unauthorized use of computer or telecommunications property, tampering with records, receiving stolen property, gambling, operating a gambling house, inciting to violence, aggravated riot, bribery, intimidation, intimidation of attorney, victim, or witness in a criminal case, obstructing justice, escape, unlawful transaction in weapons, engaging in a pattern of corrupt activity, drug trafficking offenses, illegal manufacture of drugs, illegal cultivation of marijuana, funding of drug or marijuana trafficking, illegal administration or distribution of anabolic steroids, or corrupting sports;

(2) Interference with custody that, had it occurred prior to July 1, 1996, would have been the offense of child stealing as it existed prior to that date;

(3) A felony drug possession offense that is not a minor drug possession offense;

(4) Complicity in the commission of a felony violation of a section listed in (1), (2), or (3), above;

(5) An attempt to commit, or conspiracy in the commission of, a felony violation of a section listed in (1), (2), or (3), above, if the attempt or conspiracy is punishable by a term of imprisonment of more than one year.

Operation of the act. The act expands the list of offenses that are "designated offenses" under the Communications Interception Law to also include the offenses of "soliciting or providing support for an act of terrorism," "making a terroristic threat," and "terrorism" that the act enacts. The act also includes in the definition of "designated offense" complicity in the commission of a felony violation of any of those offenses the act enacts, and an attempt to commit, or conspiracy in the commission of, a felony violation of any of those offenses if the attempt or conspiracy is punishable by a term of imprisonment of more than one year. (R.C. 2933.51(I)(1), (4), and (5).)

Corrupt Activity Law

In general

The Corrupt Activity Law, continued by the act except as described below in "Pattern of corrupt activity, and corrupt activity" (R.C. 2923.31 to 2923.36, not in the act except for R.C. 2923.31), prohibits a person from doing any of the following: (1) if the person is employed by, or associated with, any enterprise, from conducting or participating in, directly or indirectly, the affairs of the enterprise through a "pattern of corrupt activity" (see "Pattern of corrupt activity, and corrupt activity," below) or the collection of an unlawful debt, (2) through a "pattern of corrupt activity" or the collection of an unlawful debt, from acquiring or maintaining, directly or indirectly, any interest in, or control of, any enterprise or real property, or (3) if the person knowingly has received any proceeds derived, directly or indirectly, from a "pattern of corrupt activity" or the collection of any unlawful debt, from using or investing, directly or indirectly, any part of those proceeds, or any proceeds derived from the use or investment of any of those proceeds, in the acquisition of any title to, or any right, interest, or equity in, real property or in the establishment or operation of any enterprise. The Law provides an exception for a purchase of securities on the open market, in specified circumstances.

A violation of this prohibition is the offense of "engaging in a pattern of corrupt activity." Engaging in corrupt activity generally is a felony of the second degree. However, if at least one of the incidents of corrupt activity is a felony of the first, second, or third degree, aggravated murder, or murder, if at least one of the incidents was a felony under Ohio law that was committed prior to July 1, 1996, and that would constitute a felony of the first, second, or third degree, aggravated murder, or murder if committed on or after July 1, 1996, or if at least one of the incidents of corrupt activity is a felony under the law of the United States or of another state that, if committed in Ohio on or after July 1, 1996, would constitute a felony of the first, second, or third degree, aggravated murder, or murder under Ohio law, engaging in a pattern of corrupt activity is a felony of the first degree. The Law provides other sanctions and remedies that apply regarding the offense of engaging in a pattern of corrupt activity. (R.C. 2923.31 to 2923.36, not in the act except for R.C. 2923.31.)

Pattern of corrupt activity, and corrupt activity

Continuing law. Under the continuing Corrupt Activity Law, expanded by the act as described below, a "pattern of corrupt activity" means two or more incidents of "corrupt activity" (see below), whether or not there has been a prior conviction, that are related to the affairs of the same enterprise, are not isolated, and are not so closely related to each other and connected in time and place that they constitute a single event. Regarding the definition, the Law provides that: (1) at least one of the incidents forming the pattern must occur on or after January 1, 1986, (2) unless any incident was an aggravated murder or murder, the last of the incidents forming the pattern must occur within six years after the commission of any prior incident forming the pattern, excluding any period of imprisonment served by any person engaging in the corrupt activity, and (3) for purposes of the criminal penalties for the offense, at least one of the incidents forming the pattern must be a felony under the Ohio law in existence at the time it was committed or, if committed in violation of the laws of the United States or of any other state, must constitute a felony under the law of the United States or the other state and would be a criminal offense under Ohio law if committed in Ohio. (R.C. 2923.31(E).)

Further, under that Law, "corrupt activity" means engaging in, attempting to engage in, conspiring to engage in, or soliciting, coercing, or intimidating another person to engage in any of the following (R.C. 2923.31(I)):

(1) Conduct defined as "racketeering activity" under the federal "Organized Crime Control Act of 1970," as amended;

(2) Conduct constituting any of the following:

(a) Certain money laundering offenses, certain Mortgage Broker Registration Law offenses, aggravated murder, murder, voluntary manslaughter, involuntary manslaughter, felonious assault, aggravated assault, kidnapping, abduction, extortion, extortionate extension of credit, criminal usury, pandering obscenity involving a minor, pandering sexually oriented matter involving a minor, illegal use of minor in nudity-oriented material or performance, aggravated arson, arson, aggravated robbery, robbery, aggravated burglary, burglary, breaking and entering, safecracking, telecommunications fraud, unlawful use of telecommunications device, bribery, intimidation, intimidation of attorney, victim, or witness in a criminal case, perjury, tampering with evidence, obstructing justice, theft in office, having an unlawful interest in a public contract, soliciting or receiving improper compensation, carrying concealed weapons, unlawful possession of dangerous ordnance, certain Securities Law offenses, certain unlawful weapons transactions, failure of a credit services organization to register, and certain Telephone Solicitation Law offenses;

(b) The offenses of gambling, cheating, or corrupting sports as those offenses pertain to horseracing and would have been violations of certain precursor offenses in the Horse Racing Law that existed prior to July 1, 1996, or violations of those precursor offenses;

(c) Compelling prostitution, promoting prostitution, disseminating matter harmful to juveniles, pandering obscenity, compelling acceptance of objectionable materials, theft, passing bad checks, misuse of credit cards, forgery, identification card offenses, criminal simulation, trademark counterfeiting, tampering with records, insurance fraud, receiving stolen property, operating a gambling house, drug trafficking offenses, illegal manufacture of drugs or cultivation of marijuana, funding of drug or marijuana trafficking, counterfeit controlled substances offenses, any drug possession offense that is a felony of the first, second, third, or fourth degree and that occurs on or after July 1, 1996, gambling in situations not described above in paragraph (2)(b), the former offense of corrupting sports, and the current offense of corrupting sports, when the proceeds of the violation, the payments made in the violation, the amount of a claim for payment or for any other benefit that is false or deceptive and that is involved in the violation, or the value of the contraband or other property illegally possessed, sold, or purchased in the violation exceeds $500, or any combination of violations described in this paragraph when the total proceeds of the combination of violations, payments made in the combination of violations, amount of the claims for payment or for other benefits that is false or deceptive and that is involved in the combination of violations, or value of the contraband or other property illegally possessed, sold, or purchased in the combination of violations exceeds $500;

(d) Trafficking in cigarettes to avoid tax when the amount of unpaid tax exceeds $100;

(e) Pandering obscenity involving any material or performance containing a display of bestiality or of sexual conduct that is explicit and depicted with clearly visible penetration of the genitals or clearly visible penetration by the penis of any orifice when the total proceeds of the violation or combination of violations, the payments made in the violation or combination of violations, or the value of the contraband or other property illegally possessed, sold, or purchased in the violation or combination of violations exceeds $500;

(f) Any combination of violations described above in (2)(c) and pandering obscenity involving any material or performance containing a display of bestiality or of sexual conduct that is explicit and depicted with clearly visible penetration of the genitals or clearly visible penetration by the penis of any orifice when the total proceeds of the combination of violations, payments made in the combination of violations, amount of the claims for payment or for other benefits that is false or deceptive and that is involved in the combination of violations, or value of the contraband or other property illegally possessed, sold, or purchased in the combination of violations exceeds $500.

(3) Conduct constituting a violation of any law of any state other than Ohio that is substantially similar to the conduct described in (2), provided the defendant was convicted of the conduct in a criminal proceeding in the other state.

Operation of the act. The act expands the list of offenses that are within the definition of "corrupt activity" under the Corrupt Activity Law to also include the offense of "soliciting or providing support for an act of terrorism," "making a terroristic threat," and "terrorism" that the act enacts. The value of the property involved in the offense is not a relevant factor. The act also includes in the definition of "corrupt activity" any conduct constituting a violation of any law of any state other than Ohio that is substantially similar to any of those offenses, provided the defendant was convicted of the conduct in a criminal proceeding in the other state (R.C. 2923.31(I)(2)(a) and (3).)

Open Meetings Law

In general

The Open Meetings Law, continued by the act except as described below in "Executive sessions," provides that (R.C. 121.22(C)): (1) all "meetings" of any "public body" (see below) are declared to be public meetings open to the public at all times, (2) a member of a public body must be present in person at a meeting open to the public to be considered present or to vote at the meeting and for purposes of determining whether a quorum is present at the meeting, and (3) the minutes of a regular or special meeting of any public body must be promptly prepared, filed, and maintained and be open to public inspection.

The Law requires every public body, by rule, to establish a reasonable method whereby any person may determine the time and place of all regularly scheduled meetings and the time, place, and purpose of all special meetings. A public body cannot hold a special meeting unless it gives at least 24 hours' advance notice to the news media that have requested notification, except in the event of an emergency requiring immediate official action. In the event of an emergency, the member or members calling the meeting must notify the news media that have requested notification immediately of the time, place, and purpose of the meeting. (R.C. 121.22(F).)

A resolution, rule, or formal action of any kind is invalid unless adopted in an open meeting of the public body. A resolution, rule, or formal action adopted in an open meeting that results from deliberations in a meeting not open to the public is invalid unless the deliberations were for a purpose specifically authorized under an executive session (see "Executive sessions," below) and conducted at an executive session held in compliance with law. A resolution, rule, or formal action adopted in an open meeting is invalid if the public body that adopted it violated any requirement described in the preceding paragraph. Also, any person may bring an action, within a specified time, to enforce the Open Meetings Law. The Law authorizes "executive sessions," in certain circumstances and for certain purposes, described below, and exempts certain entities and certain other activities from its provisions (R.C. 121.22(D), (E), (G), (H), and (I)).

As used in the Open Meetings Law (R.C. 121.22(B)):

(1) "Public body" means: (a) any board, commission, committee, council, or similar decision-making body of a state agency, institution, or authority, and any legislative authority or board, commission, committee, council, agency, authority, or similar decision-making body of any county, township, municipal corporation, school district, or other political subdivision or local public institution, (b) any committee or subcommittee of any such body, or (c) a court of jurisdiction of a sanitary district organized wholly for the purpose of providing a water supply for domestic, municipal, and public use when meeting for specified purposes.

(2) "Meeting" means any prearranged discussion of the public business of the public body by a majority of its members.

Executive sessions

Continuing and prior law. Under continuing law, the Open Meetings Law provides that, except as regarding veterans service commissions, the members of a public body may hold an executive session only after a majority of a quorum of the public body determines, by a roll call vote, to hold an executive session and only at a regular or special meeting for the sole purpose of the consideration of any of a list of specified matters. Under prior law, one of the specified matters was the consideration of specialized details of security arrangements if disclosure of the matters discussed might reveal information that could be used for the purpose of committing, or avoiding prosecution for, a violation of the law. Under continuing law, if a public body holds an executive session pursuant to this provision, the motion and vote to hold that executive session generally must state which one or more approved matters are to be considered at executive session. (R.C. 121.22(G).)

Operation of the act. The act modifies the security related matters relative to which the Open Meetings Law permits members of a public body to hold an executive session. Under the act, members of a public body may hold an executive session for the sole purpose of the consideration of details relative to the security arrangements and emergency response protocols for a public body or "public office," if disclosure of the matters discussed could reasonably be expected to jeopardize the security of the public body or public office. As used in this provision, "public office" has the same meaning as in the Public Records Law (see below) (R.C. 121.22(B)(4) and (G)(6)).

The act does not change the preexisting provisions regarding the procedure for calling an executive session, or any other preexisting provision of the Open Meetings Law.

Public Records Law

Continuing law

In general. The Public Records Law, continued by the act except for the new exception described below in "Operation of the act" (R.C. 149.43--not in the act), specifies that, generally, all "public records" (see below) must be promptly prepared and made available for inspection to any person at all reasonable times during regular business hours. Upon request, a public office or person responsible for public records generally must make copies available at cost, within a reasonable period of time. (R.C. 149.43(B) and (E).)

Public record. For purposes of the Public Records Law, "public record" generally means any "record" (see below) that is kept by any "public office" (see below), including, but not limited to, state, county, city, village, township, and school district units. But, "public record" does not mean any of the following: (1) medical records, (2) records pertaining to probation and parole proceedings, (3) records pertaining to certain abortion related actions and to appeals of those actions, (4) records pertaining to adoption proceedings, including the contents of an adoption file maintained by the Department of Health, (5) information in a record contained in the Putative Father Registry, (6) certain adoption related records, (7) trial preparation records, (8) confidential law enforcement investigatory records, (9) certain mediation and civil rights action records, (10) DNA records stored in BCII's DNA Database, (11) inmate records released by the Department of Rehabilitation and Correction to the Department of Youth Services or a court of record, (12) records maintained by the Department of Youth Services pertaining to children in its custody released by it to the Department of Rehabilitation and Correction, (13) intellectual property records, (14) donor profile records, (15) records maintained by the Department of Job and Family Services in its New Hires Directory, (16) peace officer residential and familial information, (17) in the case of a county hospital, information that constitutes a trade secret, (18) information pertaining to the recreational activities of a person under the age of 18, (19) generally, records provided to, statements made by review board members during meetings of, and all work products of a child fatality review board, (20) certain records provided to and statements made by the executive director of a public children services agency or a prosecuting attorney pertaining to the death of a child, (21) test materials, examinations, or evaluation tools used in an examination for licensure as a nursing home administrator that the board of examiners of nursing home administrators administers or contracts under that section with a private or government entity to administer, or (22) records the release of which is prohibited by state or federal law. (R.C. 149.43(A)(1)--not in the act.)

Public office; record. R.C. 149.011, not in the act, defines certain terms for use throughout R.C. Chapter 149., as follows (R.C. 149.011):

(1) "Public office" includes any "state agency," public institution, political subdivision, or any other organized body, office, agency, institution, or entity established by Ohio laws for the exercise of any function of government. As used in this definition, "state agency" includes every department, bureau, board, commission, office, or other organized body established by the Constitution and laws of Ohio for the exercise of any function of state government, including any state-supported institution of higher education, the General Assembly, or any legislative agency, any court or judicial agency, or any political subdivision or agency thereof.

(2) "Records" includes any document, device, or item, regardless of physical form or characteristic, created or received by or coming under the jurisdiction of any public office of the state or its political subdivisions, which serves to document the organization, functions, policies, decisions, procedures, operations, or other activities of the office.

Operation of the act

The act enacts a new, specific exception to the Public Records Law. The act provides that a record kept by a public office that is a "security record" or an "infrastructure record" (see below) is not a public record under the Public Records Law and is not subject to mandatory release or disclosure under that Law.

It also provides that, notwithstanding any other Revised Code section, a public office's or a public employee's disclosure of a security record or infrastructure record that is necessary for construction, renovation, or remodeling work on any public building or project does not constitute public disclosure for purposes of waiving the preceding paragraph and does not result in that record becoming a public record for purposes of the Public Records Law. (R.C. 149.433(B) and (C).)

The act specifies that, as used in these provisions (R.C. 149.433(A)):

(1) "Security record" means either of the following (R.C. 149.433(A)(1) and (3)):

(a) Any record that contains information directly used for protecting or maintaining the security of a public office against attack, interference, or sabotage;

(b) Any record assembled, prepared or maintained by a public office or public body to prevent, mitigate, or respond to "acts of terrorism" (see "Definitions for new anti-terrorism offenses," above), including any of the following: (i) those portions of records containing specific and unique vulnerability assessments or specific and unique response plans either of which is intended to prevent or mitigate acts of terrorism, and communication codes or deployment plans of law enforcement or emergency response personnel, (ii) specific intelligence information and specific investigative records shared by federal and international law enforcement agencies with state and local law enforcement and public safety agencies, and (iii) national security records classified under federal executive order and not subject to public disclosure under federal law that are shared by federal agencies, and other records related to national security briefings to assist state and local government with domestic preparedness for acts of terrorism.

(2) "Infrastructure record" means any record that discloses the configuration of a public office's critical systems including, but not be limited to, communication, computer, electrical, mechanical, ventilation, water, and plumbing systems, security codes, or the infrastructure or structural configuration of the building in which a public office is located. "Infrastructure record" does not mean a simple floor plan that discloses only the spatial relationship of components of a public office or the building in which a public office is located.

Comprehensive school safety plans

Continuing law

Under continuing law, the board of education of each city, exempted village, and local school district must adopt a comprehensive school safety plan for each school building under the board's control. The board must examine the environmental conditions and operations of each building to determine potential hazards to student and staff safety and propose operating changes to promote the prevention of potentially dangerous problems and circumstances. The board also must consider incorporating remediation strategies into the plan for any building where documented safety problems have occurred. The board must incorporate into the plan a protocol for addressing and responding to serious threats to the safety of school property, students, employees, or administrators and a protocol for responding to any emergency events that do occur and that compromise the safety of school property, students, employees, or administrators. (R.C. 3313.536.)

Operation of the act

The act requires the board of education of each city, exempted village, and local school district to file a copy of the comprehensive school safety plan adopted as described above with each law enforcement agency that has jurisdiction over the school building (R.C. 3313.536).

Nonrenewable driver's licenses

Continuing and prior law

Under continuing law, generally, every driver's license issued to a temporary resident expires in accordance with rules adopted by the Registrar of Motor Vehicles. In no event may any license be issued for a period longer than four years and 90 days. Any license of a temporary resident is nonrenewable. Under prior law, a nonrenewable license could be replaced with a new license within 90 days prior to its expiration upon the applicant's compliance with all applicable requirements. (R.C. 4507.09(A).)

Operation of the act

Under the act, a nonrenewable license described above may be replaced with a new license within 90 days prior to its expiration upon the applicant's presentation of documentation verifying the applicant's legal presence in the United States. A nonrenewable license expires on the same date listed on the legal presence documentation, or on the same date in the fourth year after the date the nonrenewable license is issued, whichever comes first. A nonrenewable license is not transferable, and the applicant may not rely on it to obtain a driver's license in another state. (R.C. 4507.09(A) and (E).)

The act requires the Registrar of Motor Vehicles to adopt pursuant to the Administrative Procedure Act rules governing nonrenewable licenses for temporary residents. At minimum, the rules must include provisions specifying all of the following (R.C. 4507.09(E)):

(1) That no nonrenewable license may extend beyond the duration of the applicant's temporary residence in Ohio;

(2) That no nonrenewable license may be replaced by a new license unless the applicant provides acceptable documentation of the person's identity and of the applicant's continued temporary residence in Ohio;

(3) That no nonrenewable license is valid to apply for a driver's license in any other state;

(4) That every nonrenewable license must contain any security features as the Registrar prescribes.

Emergency Management Law

Continuing and prior law

Under continuing law, the board of county commissioners of a county and the chief executive of all or a majority of the other political subdivisions within the county may enter into a written agreement establishing a countywide emergency management agency. Under prior law, a countywide emergency management agency so established was required to establish a program for emergency management that did all of the following:

(1) Was in accordance with Ohio's Emergency Management Law (R.C. 5502.21 to 5502.51, not in the act except for R.C. 5502.21, 5502.27, and 5502.271), rules adopted under that Law, the federal "Act of January 12, 1951," 64 Stat. 1245, 50 App. U.S.C.A. 2251, and regulations adopted under that act;

(2) Included, without limitation, development of an emergency operations plan;

(3) Was applicable to all political subdivisions entering into the countywide agreement.

Under continuing law, the director/coordinator of emergency management for a countywide agency organized under this provision is responsible for coordinating, organizing, administering, and operating emergency management in accordance with the agency's program, subject to the direction and control of the agency's executive committee. (R.C. 5502.26(A).)

Prior law contained similar provisions authorizing regional authorities for emergency management (established in lieu of a countywide emergency management agency and consisting of two or more counties, with the consent of the chief executives of a majority of the participating political subdivisions of each county involved) and authorizing political subdivisions (that have not entered into a written agreement establishing either a countywide emergency management agency or a regional authority for emergency management) to establish programs for emergency management (R.C. 5502.27 and 5502.271).

Operation of the act

The act revises the law regarding programs for emergency management of countywide emergency management agencies in the following ways:

(1) The act requires that the program also be in accordance with local ordinances pertaining to emergency management.

(2) The act replaces the requirement that the program be in accordance with the federal "Act of January 12, 1951," 64 Stat. 1245, 50 App. U.S.C.A. 2251, and regulations adopted under it with a requirement that the plan be in accordance with the "Robert T. Stafford Disaster Relief and Emergency Assistance Act," 88 Stat. 143, 42 U.S.C. 5121, et. seq., as amended, and all applicable rules and regulations adopted under that act.

(3) The act expands the emergency operations plan that must be developed to specify that it must be an "all-hazards" emergency operations plan that has been coordinated with all agencies, boards and divisions having emergency management functions within the county;

(4) The act requires that the program include the preparation and conduct of an annual exercise of the county's all-hazards emergency operations plan.

Under the act, all agencies, boards and divisions having emergency management functions within each political subdivision within the county must cooperate in the development of the all-hazards emergency operations plan and must cooperate in the preparation and conduct of the annual exercise. (R.C. 5502.26(A).)

The act makes parallel changes to the provisions relating to programs for emergency management of regional authorities for emergency management and political subdivisions (R.C. 5502.27 and 5502.271).

The act also expands a provision relating to a countywide emergency management agency to require that the agency be considered a county board and receive the services of the county auditor, treasurer, and prosecuting attorney in the same manner as other county agencies (continuing law), boards (added by the act), or divisions (added by the act) (R.C. 5502.26(C)).

Definition of contraband

Continuing law

Continuing law, expanded by the act as described below, defines "contraband," as used throughout the Revised Code, as any property described in the following categories (R.C. 2901.01(A)(13)):

(1) Property that in and of itself is unlawful for a person to acquire or possess;

(2) Property that is not in and of itself unlawful for a person to acquire or possess, but that has been determined by an Ohio court, in accordance with law, to be contraband because of its use in an unlawful activity or manner, of its nature, or of the circumstances of the person who acquires or possesses it;

(3) Property that is specifically stated to be contraband by a Revised Code section or by an ordinance, regulation, or resolution;

(4) Property that is forfeitable pursuant to a Revised Code section, or an ordinance, regulation, or resolution;

(5) Any controlled substance, or any device, paraphernalia, money, or other means of exchange that has been, is being, or is intended to be used in an attempt or conspiracy to violate, or in a violation of, the Drug Laws or the Controlled Substances Laws;

(6) Any gambling device, paraphernalia, money, or other means of exchange that has been, is being, or is intended to be used in an attempt or conspiracy to violate, or in the violation of, the Gambling Laws;

(7) Any equipment, machine, device, apparatus, vehicle, vessel, container, liquid, or substance that has been, is being, or is intended to be used in an attempt or conspiracy to violate, or in the violation of, any Ohio law relating to alcohol or tobacco;

(8) Any personal property that has been, is being, or is intended to be used in an attempt or conspiracy to commit, or in the commission of, any offense or in the transportation of the fruits of any offense;

(9) Any property that is acquired through the sale or other transfer of contraband or through the proceeds of contraband, other than by a court or a law enforcement agency acting within the scope of its duties;

(10) Any computer, computer system, computer network, computer software, or other telecommunications device that is used in a conspiracy to commit, an attempt to commit, or the commission of any offense, if the owner of the computer, computer system, computer network, computer software, or other telecommunications device is convicted of or pleads guilty to the offense in which it is used.

Operation of the act

The act expands the definition of "contraband" to also include any property that is "material support or resources" and that has been, is being, or is intended to be used in an attempt or conspiracy to commit, or in the commission of, the offenses of "soliciting or providing support for an act of terrorism," "making a terroristic threat," or "terrorism" as enacted by the act, or the offense of "obstructing justice" as amended by the act when the offense or act committed by the person aided or to be aided as described in that offense is an act of terrorism. As used in this provision, "material support or resources" and "act of terrorism" have the same meanings as described above in "Definitions for new anti-terrorism offenses." (R.C. 2901.01(A)(13)(k).)

Use in Revised Code

Numerous statutes use the term "contraband," in a variety of manners. One of the most significant uses relates to the series of statutes that prohibit the possession, concealment, transportation, receipt, purchase, sale, leasing, rental, or other transfer of any contraband (R.C. 2933.42), and provide for the seizure and forfeiture to the state, in accordance with specified procedures, of contraband that has been, is being, or is intended to be used in violation of the prohibition (R.C. 2933.43). Other statutes that use the term include R.C. 1506.35, 2913.34, 2923.31, 2923.35, 2923.45, 2923.46, 2925.43, 2925.44, 2927.02, 2933.32, 2933.41, 2933.74, 2935.03, 4301.10, 4503.233, 4503.234, 4507.38, 4511.195, 5502.14, 5502.19, and 5743.112.

HISTORY

ACTION	DATE	JOURNAL ENTRY
Introduced	10-18-01	p. 1000
Reported, S. Judiciary on Criminal Justice	01-23-02	p. 1343
Passed Senate (33-0)	01-23-02	p. 1346
Reported, H. Criminal Justice	03-13-02	p. 1546
Passed House (97-0)	03-20-02	pp. 1581-1583
Senate concurred in House amendments (32-0)	03-20-02	pp. 1634-1635

02-sb184.124/kl

