BILL SUMMARY

- Requires certain chief public officials employing persons with arrest authority to require such employees to complete satisfactorily any training required under the applicable motor vehicle pursuit policy.
- Requires those chief officials to review annually their pursuit policies and revise them as needed.

CONTENT AND OPERATION

Under current law, any agency, instrumentality, or political subdivision of the state that employs a peace officer or other person with arrest authority is required to adopt a policy for the pursuit in a motor vehicle of any person who violates a state law or municipal ordinance. The chief law enforcement officer or other chief official of the governmental entity must formally advise each peace officer or other person with arrest authority it employs of the pursuit policy adopted.

The bill requires the chief law enforcement officer or other chief official of the governmental entity to review annually the pursuit policy and revise it as needed. In addition, the chief law enforcement officer or other chief official must require each employee with arrest authority to complete satisfactorily any training required by the pursuit policy.
