

Ohio Legislative Service Commission

Bill Analysis

Aida S. Montano

Sub. H.B. 292

128th General Assembly

(As Reported by H. Civil & Commercial Law)

Reps. Letson and Oelslager, Yuko, Phillips, Ujvagi, Harwood, Domenick, Stebelton, Chandler, Luckie, Foley

BILL SUMMARY

- Provides that a transfer fee covenant recorded in Ohio on or after the effective date of the bill does not run with the title to real property and is not binding on or enforceable against any subsequent owner, purchaser, or mortgagee of any interest in real property as an equitable servitude or otherwise, and provides that any lien purporting to secure the payment of a transfer fee under such a transfer fee covenant is void.
- Authorizes a court of common pleas in a partition action, if no party elects to take the real property involved in the action and at the insistence of a party, to order the sale of the property at a public auction by the sheriff who executed the writ of partition (existing law) or by a licensed auctioneer who is qualified to conduct an auction of real property.
- Requires that if the sale of real property is made by a licensed auctioneer, it must be made pursuant to the Auctioneers Law.
- Provides that the auctioneer must receive compensation and reimbursement for the expenses of advertising the public auction that the court finds reasonable and proper and that the compensation and advertising expenses must be charged as costs in the action or proceeding in which the sale is ordered.

CONTENT AND OPERATION

Transfer fee covenant

The bill provides that a "transfer fee covenant" recorded in Ohio on or after the effective date of the bill does not run with the title to real property and is not binding on or enforceable against any subsequent owner, purchaser, or mortgagee of any interest in real property as an equitable servitude or otherwise. It further provides that any lien purporting to secure the payment of a "transfer fee" under a transfer fee covenant that is recorded in Ohio on or after the effective date of the bill is void. (See "Definitions," below, for the definitions of the terms in quotation marks.) (R.C. 5301.057(B) and (C).)

Definitions

The bill defines the following terms for purposes of its provisions pertaining to transfer fee covenants (R.C. 5301.057(A)):

"Transfer fee covenant" means a declaration or covenant recorded against the title to real property that requires or purports to require the payment of a transfer fee to the declarant or other person specified in the declaration or covenant or to their successors or assigns upon a subsequent transfer of an interest in the real property.

"Transfer fee" means a fee or charge required by a transfer fee covenant and payable upon the "transfer" (see definition below) of an interest in real property, or payable for the right to make or accept such a transfer, regardless of whether the fee or charge is a fixed amount or is determined as a percentage of the value of the property, the purchase price, or other consideration given for the transfer. The following are not transfer fees for purposes of this definition:

(1) Any consideration payable by the grantee to the grantor for the interest in real property being transferred. For the purposes of this provision, an interest in real property includes a separate mineral estate and its appurtenant surface access rights.

(2) Any commission payable to a licensed real estate broker or salesperson for the transfer of real property pursuant to an agreement between the broker or salesperson and the grantor or the grantee;

(3) Any interest, charges, fees, or other amounts payable by a borrower to a lender pursuant to a loan secured by a mortgage against real property;

(4) Any rent, reimbursement, charge, fee, or other amount payable by a lessee to a lessor under a lease;

(5) Any consideration payable to the holder of an option to purchase an interest in real property or the holder of a right of first refusal or first offer to purchase an interest in real property for waiving, releasing, or not exercising the option or right upon the transfer of the property to another person;

(6) Any tax, fee, charge, assessment, fine, or other amount payable to or imposed by a governmental authority;

(7) Any fee, charge, assessment, fine, or other amount payable to a homeowners, condominium, cooperative, mobile home, or property owners association pursuant to a declaration or covenant or law applicable to the association;

(8) Any payment required pursuant to an "environmental covenant" (see definition below).

"Transfer" means the sale, gift, conveyance, assignment, inheritance, or other transfer of an ownership interest in real property located in Ohio.

"Environmental covenant" means a servitude that imposes activity and use limitations on real property and meets the requirements of R.C. 5301.82 (see COMMENT 1).

Partition of real property

Background

R.C. Chapter 5307. sets forth the procedure for the partition of real property among tenants in common, survivorship tenants, and coparceners, upon a petition filed in the court of common pleas in the county in which the property is located. Upon a finding by the court that the plaintiff has a right to any part of the property, it must order the partition of the property in favor of the plaintiff or all interested parties, appoint a suitable disinterested person to be the commissioner to make the partition, and issue a writ of partition directed to the sheriff to cause to be set off and divided to the plaintiff or each interested party whatever part or proportion of the property that the court orders. If the commissioner or commissioners are of the opinion that the estate cannot be divided according to the writ of partition without manifest injury to its value, the commissioner or commissioners must return that fact to the court with a just valuation of the estate. If the court approves the return and one or more of the parties elect to take the estate at the appraised value, the court must adjudge the estate to them upon their paying to the other parties their proportion of the appraised value. (R.C. 5307.01, 5307.02, 5307.04, 5307.05, and 5307.09--not in the bill.)

Sale of estate if no party makes an election

Under current law, if no election to take the estate is made, at the instance of a party, the court of common pleas may order a sale of the estate at public auction, by the sheriff who executed the writ of partition, or the sheriff's successor in office. Such a sale of an estate must be made at the door of the courthouse, unless for good cause the court of common pleas directs it to be made on the premises. The sale must be conducted as upon execution, except that it is unnecessary to appraise the estate; but it cannot be sold for less than two thirds of the value returned by the commissioner or commissioners. Unless by special order, on good cause shown, the court directs the entire payment to be made in cash, the purchase money must be payable one third on the day of sale, one third in one year after the sale, and one third in two years after the sale, with interest. On the sheriff's return of the proceedings to sell the estate, the court of common pleas must examine them. If a sale has been made, and the court approves it, the sheriff must execute and deliver a deed to the purchaser on receiving payment of the consideration money, or taking sufficient security therefor, to the satisfaction of the court. (R.C. 5307.11, 5307.12, and 5307.13.)

The bill modifies current law (modified or added language is italicized) by providing that if no party elects to take the estate, at the insistence (instead of instance) of a party, the court of common pleas may order a sale of the estate at public auction by either (1) the sheriff who executed the writ of partition or the sheriff's successor in office or (2) an auctioneer licensed under R.C. Chapter 4707. (Auctioneers Law) who is qualified under R.C. 4707.021 (see COMMENT 2) to conduct an auction of real property. When the sale is made by a sheriff, the sale must be made at the door of the courthouse, unless for good cause the court of common pleas directs it to be made on the premises. That sale must be conducted as upon execution, except that it is unnecessary to appraise the estate. When the sale is made by a licensed auctioneer, it must be made pursuant to the Auctioneers Law. No property may be sold (by the sheriff, sheriff's successor, or auctioneer) for less than two thirds of the value returned by the commissioner or commissioners. On the return of the proceedings to sell the estate, the court of common pleas must examine them. The bill makes no change to the last sentence described in the preceding paragraph requiring the sheriff to execute and deliver the deed. The bill eliminates the provision in current law italicized in the preceding paragraph dealing with the installment payment of the purchase money. (R.C. 5307.11, 5307.12, and 5307.13.)

Distribution of sale proceeds

Current law provides that the money or securities arising from a sale of, or an election to take an estate, must be distributed and paid, by order of the court of common pleas, to the parties entitled to them, in lieu of their respective parts and proportions of the estate, according to their rights in the estate. All receipts of such money or securities by the sheriff are in the sheriff's official capacity, and the sureties on the sheriff's official bond are liable for any misapplication thereof. (R.C. 5307.14.)

The bill provides that the distribution of money or securities described in the first sentence in the preceding paragraph is subject to the provision added by the bill as described in the following sentence. When a sale is made by a licensed auctioneer, the auctioneer must receive compensation and reimbursement for expenses as described in R.C. 2335.021 (see COMMENT 3) that the court must apportion as costs to the parties as the court finds reasonable and proper. All receipts of money or securities by the sheriff arising from a sale or election are in the sheriff's official capacity, and the sureties on the sheriff's official bond are liable for any misapplication of the money or securities. (R.C. 5307.14.)

Conveyance of property

Under existing law, when a conveyance of land sold, or elected to be taken in a proceeding for partition, is not made by the officer who made the sale, the court of common pleas on being first satisfied that such sale or election was regularly made, and that the purchase money is fully paid or secured, on motion, may order the sheriff of the county, or officer performing the duties of sheriff, to execute and deliver to the purchaser, or person electing to take the property, a deed for the property (R.C. 5307.16).

The bill provides that when an officer or auctioneer (added by the bill) has not conveyed land sold or elected to be taken in a proceeding for partition, the court of common pleas on being first satisfied that such sale or election was regularly made, and that the purchase money has been fully paid or secured, on motion, may order the sheriff of the county, or officer performing the duties of sheriff, to execute and deliver to the purchaser, or person electing to take the property, a deed for the property (R.C. 5307.16).

COMMENT

1. R.C. 5301.82(A), not in the bill, requires an environmental covenant to contain all of the following:

(a) A statement that the instrument is an environmental covenant executed pursuant to R.C. 5301.80 to 5301.92;

(b) A legally sufficient description of the real property that is subject to the environmental covenant;

(c) A description of the activity and use limitations on the real property;

(d) Requirements for notice following transfer of a specified interest in, or concerning proposed changes in the use of, applications for building permits for, or proposals for any site work affecting contamination on, the property that is subject to the environmental covenant;

(e) The name or identity of every holder;

(f) Rights of access to the property granted in connection with implementation or enforcement of the environmental covenant;

(g) The signatures of the applicable agency, every holder, and, unless waived by the agency, every owner of the fee simple of the real property that is subject to the environmental covenant;

(h) An identification of the name and location of any administrative record for the environmental response project pursuant to which the environmental covenant is created.

In addition to the above required information, an environmental covenant may contain other information, restrictions, and requirements agreed to by the persons who signed the environmental covenant. In addition to other conditions for an agency's approval of an environmental covenant, the agency may require those persons specified by the agency who have interests in the real property that is the subject of the environmental covenant to sign the covenant. (R.C. 5301.82(B) and (C).)

2. R.C. 4707.021, not in the bill, provides that only an auctioneer who is licensed under R.C. Chapter 4707. (hereafter "licensed auctioneer") and who is licensed as a real estate broker or real estate salesperson under R.C. Chapter 4735. (hereafter "licensed real estate broker" or "licensed real estate salesperson") can sign an auction contract for the sale of real property at auction. A licensed real estate broker who is not a licensed auctioneer cannot sign an auction contract or conduct an auction, but may contract for the sale of real property at auction only if (a) the auctioneer who signs the auction contract and who conducts the auction is a licensed real estate salesperson and is associated with the real estate broker who contracts for the sale of real property, or (b) the real estate broker enters into a cooperative agreement with another licensed real estate broker with whom a licensed auctioneer is associated and the auctioneer is solely responsible for signing the auction contract and conducting the auction. An apprentice auctioneer who is a licensed real estate broker or licensed real estate salesperson may act as a bid caller in the sale of real property at auction if the sponsoring auctioneer is a licensed auctioneer and a licensed real estate broker or licensed real estate salesperson. Nothing in the above provisions may be construed to permit a business to contract for the sale of real property at auction through an individual who is not a licensed auctioneer and a licensed real estate broker or licensed real estate salesperson.

3. R.C. 2335.021, not in the bill, permits any court of record to appoint an auctioneer licensed under the Auctioneers Law to conduct any public auction of goods, chattels, or lands required to be sold by an officer of the court. The auctioneer must receive compensation and reimbursement for the expenses of advertising the public auction that the court finds reasonable and proper. The compensation and advertising expenses must be charged as costs in the action or proceeding in which the sale is ordered.

HISTORY

ACTION	DATE
Introduced	09-30-09
Reported, H. Civil & Commercial Law	12-10-09

H0292-RH-128.docx/jc

