ACT SUMMARY

- Authorizes 19 conveyances of state-owned real estate to various persons, by various methods, including by direct sale, sealed bid auction, or public auction.

CONTENT AND OPERATION

Real estate conveyances

The act authorizes 19 public land conveyances. The legal descriptions of the parcels of land are in the act.¹ The legal descriptions may be adjusted to accommodate any corrections necessary to facilitate recordation of the deeds. Information about each conveyance is attached to this analysis in a document entitled "State-Owned Real Estate Conveyances."

To convey a parcel of land under the act, the Auditor of State, with the assistance of the Attorney General, prepares each deed. Deeds are executed by the Governor in the name of the state, countersigned by the Secretary of State, sealed with the Great Seal of the State, presented in the Office of the Auditor of State for recording, and delivered to the grantee, except for the conveyance of a perpetual easement in Section 18 of the act, which requires the deed to be executed by the Director of Administrative Services.

Cost of the conveyances

For most of the conveyances, the grantee pays all costs associated with the purchase and conveyance, including recording costs and fees.² For many of the conveyances, the grantee also must pay other costs, for example, real estate taxes and assessments, the costs of surveys, title reports and opinions, property descriptions, appraisals, environmental studies, or remediation.³

For the Section 7 conveyance, the Department of Developmental Disabilities pays advertising costs, additional fees, and other costs incident to the sale of the property. The Section 9 conveyance requires the grantee and the University of Cincinnati to share equally all costs associated with the purchase and conveyance. The Sections 10, 11, and 12 conveyances involving the Department of Mental Health and Addiction Services have the Department paying advertising and other costs incident to the sale. Likewise, the Department of Youth Services,⁴ the Superintendent of the State Highway Patrol,⁵ and the Department of Rehabilitation and Corrections⁶ must pay advertising and incidental costs involved in their conveyances. Lastly, the grantee and the Ohio State University must reach an agreement regarding payment of the costs associated with their purchase agreement under Section 17.
