"I feel so fortunate to have participated in the LSC program. What a unique experience and opportunity to learn about state government. Even today I draw on the skills I gained during the year as a [fellow] and the year that followed when I served as a Senate Aide. I credit the representative for whom I worked with teaching me the power of good writing and for encouraging me to attend law school."

“As a journalism major, the LSC [fellowship] gave me my first “professional” chance to write press releases, radio spots, and other reports. As a [fellow] for the House Minority Leader, I had the opportunity to observe the legislative process up close. As I continued on to work for a U.S. Senator in D.C., I was able to build on the state government experience by working in the U.S. Senate. It was a great [fellowship]! I also made some great friends!”

-Cindy Spitz
