DRCCD5 Judicial release on compassionate medical grounds

R.C. 2929.20

R.C. 2929.20

R.C. 2929.20

(1) Authorizes a court, on its own motion, to grant judicial release to an offender in a state correctional institution on compassionate medical grounds if the offender has not been sentenced to death or life imprisonment.

(1) Same as the Executive, except that the court may only grant compassionate release to an offender in imminent danger of death, who is medically incapacitated, or who is suffering from a terminal illness.

(1) Same as the House.

Executive

As Passed by the House

As Reported by Senate Finance

(2) Requires the court, after granting judicial release, to determine the offender's health status annually, and permits the court, if the offender's status improves sufficiently, to reimpose the reduced sentence after a hearing or waiver of a hearing by the offender.

(2) Replaces the Executive provision with a provision that removes the requirement that the court determine the offender's health status annually, and requires, instead of permits, the court to revoke the judicial release if the offender's health improves so that the offender is no longer terminally ill, medically incapacitated, or in imminent danger of death.

(2) Same as the House.

(3) No provision.

(3) Eliminates the ability of a court to grant such a judicial release if other exigent circumstances exist such that institutional confinement does not offer additional protections for public safety or against the offender's risk to re-offend.

(3) Same as the House.

(4) No provision.

(4) Requires the court when granting a judicial release to place the offender on probation or parole and under an appropriate community control sanction for a period that does not expire earlier than the date on which the offender's mandatory prison term ends.

(4) Same as the House.

(5) No provision.

(5) Allows the court to revoke the judicial release if the offender violates the community control sanction.

(5) Same as the House.

Fiscal effect: Potential reduction in incarceration related expenditures, including medical treatment costs, for each offender granted judicial release on compassionate medical grounds.

Fiscal effect: Potential reduction in state incarceration related expenditures for each offender placed on probation or parole on compassionate medical grounds. Local jurisdictions may see some increase in supervision related expenditures for offenders placed on probation.
