- Staffing expenses. As of this writing, the specific salary and nature of any additional court staff that may be needed to support the new judge is uncertain, as local officials have not yet made those decisions.

Detailed Fiscal Analysis

Champaign County Court of Common Pleas judgeship

The bill creates a Domestic Relations-Juvenile-Probate Division for the Champaign County Court of Common Pleas and adds a judge to that division to be elected in 2008, for a term to begin February 10, 2009.

Judicial compensation-related costs

Base salary

The annual salary of a judge of a court of common pleas consists of a state share paid and local share paid by the county as follows:

- The local share varies slightly depending on a county's population as determined by the decennial census. The local amount is based on 18 cents per capita in the county, but may not be less than $3,500 or more than $14,000.
- The state share is equal to the annual salary minus the local share. Substitute House Bill 712 of the 123rd General Assembly provided annual salary increases each year from 2002 through 2008. The annual salaries of the judges and justices of the court will increase by the lesser of 3% or the percentage increase in the Consumer Price Index (CPI) over the 12-month period ending on September 30 of the previous year. In the case of judges for whom a portion of the salary is paid locally, the entire amount of the increase is added to the state share.

Supreme Court of Ohio fiscal staff has estimated that, in 2008, the annual salary of a judge of a court of common pleas will be $121,600. Absent a statutory change providing annual salary increases after the year 2008, that annual amount will not increase in the year 2009. This would mean, of that amount, based on the 2000 Census, Champaign County's local share will total $7,000 (38,890 county population x 18 cents per capita) in the year 2009. The state will cover the balance of the annual salary, which for the remainder of state FY 2009 (February 10, 2009 through June 30, 2009), amounts to $42,975. For FY 2010, the first full state fiscal year of the judgeship, the state will expend $114,600 plus whatever future cost-of-living increase may be authorized by the General Assembly.

Retirement

State and local elected officials are exempt from membership in PERS (Public Employees Retirement System), unless they choose to become members. Most do. Therefore, this analysis includes PERS payments, which assumes that the new judge added to the Champaign County Court of Common Pleas joins PERS. The state and local PERS contributions would work as follows:

- The state and Champaign County contribute at the rate of 13.77% and 13.55% of their share amounts, respectively. Under that PERS contribution formula, Champaign County will pay $948 annually, while the state will contribute $15,780 in FY 2010, the first full state fiscal year of the new judgeship.

Other state and local contributions

In addition to PERS, the state and Champaign County also make contributions for other purposes as follows:

- The state contributions total approximately 8.235%, which includes 1.45% of gross salary for Medicare for all employees hired after April 1986, 0.07% for workers' compensation, 0.295% for the Department of Administrative Services' payroll administration services, and 6.42% for health insurance. These miscellaneous annual contributions will cost the state $9,437 ($114,600 x 8.235%) in FY 2010, the first full state fiscal year of the new court of common pleas judgeship.
- Champaign County's contributions total approximately 4.45%, which includes 1.45% of gross salary for Medicare and 3.0% for workers' compensation. These miscellaneous annual contributions will cost Champaign County $312 ($7,000 x 4.45%).

Other Champaign County costs

Capital improvements. The building that houses the Champaign County Court of Common Pleas is currently undergoing a renovation. This renovation began with the knowledge that a new court of common pleas judge could possibly be added in the future. As a result, the scope of this renovation has already incorporated the space necessary to accommodate the additional judge contained in this bill.

Staffing expenses. Legislative Service Commission fiscal staff contacted Champaign County court personnel to determine if the addition of one judge will require any increase in court staff and was informed that the court is in the preliminary stages of making this determination. The initial view is that at least one additional staff person will be required. As of this writing, the specific salary and nature of that position has not been determined. The discussions regarding the distribution and duties of staff in the newly created Domestic Relations-Juvenile-Probate Division for the Champaign County Court of Common Pleas will take place in the following weeks as the specific needs of the court are addressed and discussed by the relevant elected officials.
