Local Fiscal Highlights

- Depending on the amount of additional beer, wine, and mixed beverages purchased in agency stores, this bill could potentially lead to increased revenue to political subdivisions from alcoholic beverage and sales tax receipts.

Detailed Fiscal Analysis

The bill designates the month of June as "Ohio Wines Month." The bill also allows agency stores that hold D-1, D-2, and D-5 permits to sell beer, wine, and mixed beverages for on- or off-premises consumption rather than only tasting samples that they are limited to selling under current law. However, the bill prohibits the consumption of beer, wine, and mixed beverages in the area of the agency store devoted to the sale of spirituous liquor. If the changes lead to an increase in beer, wine, and mixed beverage sales at qualifying agency stores, this bill could lead to increased alcoholic beverage and sales tax receipts for the state General Revenue Fund and political subdivisions. According to the Department of Commerce's web site, there are currently 18 D-1 permitted agency stores, 34 D-2 permitted agency stores, and three D-5 permitted agency stores in the state.
