Sub. H.B. 171

130th General Assembly
(S. Education)

Specifies that course instructor qualifications, which is one of the criteria that may be used by a school district board of education to determine whether to grant credit for a religious course, must be "similar to the qualifications of other teachers within the district."

Grants immunity from civil liability in damages to a school district, member of a school district board of education, or school district employee for injury allegedly arising during a student's transportation to or from a place of instruction when private transportation is used under a released time policy.
