Suspension of veterinary license

(R.C. 4741.22 and 4741.31)

The act authorizes the State Veterinary Medical Licensing Board to suspend the certificate of license of an individual without first holding a hearing if the Board's Executive Director recommends that such action be taken after determining that there is clear and convincing evidence that certain conditions apply to or certain actions have been committed by the individual, including alcohol or drug addiction and cruelty to animals, and that the individual's continued practice presents a danger of immediate and serious harm to the public. The Executive Director must prepare written allegations for consideration by the Board. The Board, upon review of those allegations and by an affirmative vote of at least four members, may then suspend the certificate without a prior hearing. The act allows a telephone conference call to be utilized for reviewing the allegations and taking the vote on the suspension. It then establishes procedures to be followed for such a suspension, including an adjudicatory hearing if requested by the individual.

Finally, under the act, the license or registration of an individual who is found guilty of, has pleaded guilty to, or is subject to a judicial finding in relation to specified crimes, including murder and felonious assault, is automatically suspended. If the individual fails to either request or participate in an adjudication, the Board must permanently revoke the individual's license or registration.

Veterinary licensing

(R.C. 4741.03, 4741.09 (repealed), 4741.11, 4741.12, 4741.17, 4741.19)

The act makes changes to the law pertaining to veterinary licensing. First, the act removes a requirement that an individual seeking to take a nationally recognized veterinary examination apply to the State Veterinary Medical Licensing Board for permission to take the examination. It also makes corresponding changes.

Second, the act increases the cost of an initial veterinary license, as follows:

- To $425 from $375 for a two-year initial license;
- To $300 from $250 for a one-year initial license.

Third, the act removes a separate initial license fee for licenses issued by reciprocity in favor of the standard license fee.

Fourth, the act removes the fee for examinations offered by the Board. The amount of this fee is not prescribed in the Revised or Administrative Codes, but is rather determined by the Board. The act also removes the right of an applicant who fails the examination to request a written report showing the reasons for the failure.

Finally, the act expands the list of veterinary college approval entities to include the Program for the Assessment of Veterinary Education Equivalence of the American Association of Veterinary State Boards. A veterinary college in receipt of such an approval has been determined by the Board to provide an education sufficient to meet the board's education requirement for licensure. The act also removes the Board's ability to approve other certification programs.
