Agency overview

The Ohio State Board of Psychology was established in 1972. The Board is responsible for licensing psychologists and school psychologists who may also engage in restrictive private practice.¹ The Board also certifies applied behavior analysts. The Board establishes standards of practice, education, preprofessional training, and examination for psychologists, school psychologists, and applied behavior analysts. The Board also investigates complaints, holds administrative hearings, determines appropriate disciplinary actions, and monitors continuing education compliance among licensees and certificate holders. About 4,400 licenses and certificates issued by the Board were active at the end of FY 2020.

The Board’s governing authority consists of nine members appointed by the Governor, including six psychologists or school psychologists and three patient advocates who are either parents or relatives of a recipient of mental health services or representatives of organizations that represent recipients of mental health services. In addition to travel reimbursement, board members also receive a per diem for conducting official board business.

The Board’s daily operations are the responsibility of an executive director appointed by the nine-member governing authority. Including the Executive Director, the Board has five full-time staff members. The Board receives no General Revenue Fund (GRF) money; it is entirely supported by fees.

¹ School psychologists who practice only in school-based settings are regulated by the Department of Education.
